Engage with local Hmong, Day, and Red Dao communities in their villages.
Experience an authentic overnight homestay with a Day ethnic family in Ta Van.
Journey by overnight train between Hanoi and Lao Cai, offering a unique travel perspective.
Discover the traditional lifestyles and indigo-dyed crafts of ethnic minorities.
Witness picturesque waterfalls and bamboo forests near Giang Ta Chai village.
Enjoy scenic drives through Sapa's mountainous landscapes, capturing memorable photos.

Journey Through Sapa's Heart

Your adventure begins with an evening departure from Hanoi, traveling overnight by train to the mountainous north. Upon arrival in Lao Cai, a scenic transfer brings you to Sapa, the gateway to the region's natural wonders. The route takes you deep into the Muong Hoa Valley, where you'll trek through Lao Chai, a Hmong village, and Ta Van, home to the Day people, where you'll spend a memorable night. The journey continues to Giang Ta Chai, a Red Dao village, and through Su Pan, offering diverse cultural encounters and spectacular views before your return train journey to Hanoi.

Ideal for Culture Seekers and Nature Lovers

This tour is perfectly suited for individuals or small groups who appreciate moderate physical activity and have a keen interest in cultural exchange. If you enjoy scenic walks, learning about traditional ways of life, and experiencing local hospitality through a homestay, this itinerary is for you. The easy trekking pace allows for ample time to absorb the surroundings and interact with the local communities, making it accessible for most fitness levels.

Practical Information for Your Trip

Transportation throughout the tour includes comfortable overnight train travel between Hanoi and Lao Cai, as well as private car, van, or jeep transfers for shorter distances around Sapa. All specified meals (Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner) are included, ensuring you experience local cuisine. An experienced English or French-speaking guide will accompany you, providing insights valley is famous for its intricate terraced rice fields that cascade down the hillsides, creating a stunning visual tapestry. Along the journey, you'll have the chance to observe and potentially interact with members of various ethnic minority groups, such as the Hmong and Dao, going about their daily lives.

Leaving the main road, you'll follow a smaller, more intimate local path leading directly into Lao Chai village, a vibrant community of the Hmong ethnic people. From Lao Chai, the trek continues further to Ta Van village, where the Day ethnic community resides. The evening culminates in a truly authentic cultural experience: an overnight homestay with a Day family, offering deep insight into their traditions and hospitality. The day's trekking covers an enjoyable distance of approximately 10 kilometers.

Activities: Arrive at Lao Cai Station
Transfer to Sapa town
Enjoy breakfast at a local restaurant
Drive into Muong Hoa Valley
Trek to Lao Chai village (Hmong ethnic group)
Continue trekking to Ta Van village (Day ethnic group)

Day 3

Red Dao Village Exploration, Valley Views & Night Train to Hanoi

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch | Stay: Overnight Train with soft berth 4 people in 1 cabin | Transport: Trekking, private car, overnight train

Following breakfast at your homestay, your trekking journey resumes. Today, you will head towards Giang Ta Chai village, a settlement of the Red Dao tribe. This part of the trek offers incredible natural beauty, including picturesque waterfalls and lush surroundings. You will enjoy lunch within this scenic village, providing a chance to rest and absorb the peaceful atmosphere. After your meal, the trek continues with a descent through more terraced rice fields and serene bamboo forests, eventually bringing you to Su Pan Village. Here, a brief stop allows for photo opportunities, capturing the stunning vistas of the valley. From Su Pan, you will transfer to the main road, where a private car awaits to take you back to Sapa. The drive itself is scenic, with opportunities for additional photo stops to admire the expansive Sapa valley.

Upon reaching Sapa, you'll have some time before your transfer to Lao Cai Station. Your driver will ensure you arrive in good time to board your overnight train back to Hanoi, which departs at 8:45 PM. Similar to your inbound journey, this train provides a comfortable soft berth cabin for your final night of travel. The train is scheduled to arrive in Hanoi early the following morning, around 5:30 AM, concluding your memorable Sapa trekking and homestay experience.

Activities: Trek to Giang Ta Chai village (Red Dao tribe)
Enjoy lunch in Giang Ta Chai
Continue trekking through terraced rice fields and bamboo forest
