It utilizes MFU (Micro-Focused Ultrasound) energy, which targets the deeper layers of the skin to stimulate natural collagen production, tighten facial contours, and lift sagging skin without surgical intervention. Additionally, Bipolar RF (radiofrequency) technology is employed to enhance elasticity and firmness by boosting collagen at various skin depths. A specialized infusion of exclusive Vinmec stem cell-based serums, either Exosome EV or TBG derived from umbilical cord blood, is then applied. These serums are renowned for their exceptional ability to repair, regenerate, and rejuvenate skin at a cellular level. The treatment concludes with a deeply nourishing facial mask, rich in growth factors, which accelerates skin recovery and leaves your complexion visibly brighter, smoother, and more youthful. This cutting-edge, pain-free procedure requires no hospital stay, allowing you to resume your vacation immediately, with only simple post-care steps such as using prescribed moisturizers and sun protection.
